The Chamber's 206th Annual Meeting

will welcome award-winning CNN Senior Political Correspondent Candy Crowley and debut our progress report Uniquely Effective...A Snapshot of Progress tomorrow, October 10.

Candy Crowley
 CNN Senior Political Correspondent

WE WILL WELCOME internationally renowned CNN senior political correspondent Candy Crowley. She will share 30 years experience covering the political landscape-from presidential, congressional and gubernatorial races to the latest developments on Capitol Hill.

Reporting from international destinations, Ms. Crowley has earned the highest forms of recognition among her colleagues for distinction in journalism, most recently the Edward R. Murrow award in 2005.

Ms. Crowley has covered notable global events including the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina in the Gulf Coast, the impeachment of President Clinton, and election night 2000.

UNIQUELY Effective...A Snapshot of Progress looks inside our successful operations as we promote growth and economic development, advocate for business tax reductions, and annually deliver 150 innovative programs and services for our members.

More than 1,500 business professionals will join Mark S. Schweiker, Chamber President & CEO, at this exceptional networking event to celebrate the past year's performance, the best ever financially in our history. We will unveil plans for the upcoming year as we work to help our area's largest corporations and smallest entrepreneurs achieve their goals.

THE CHAMBER WILL WELCOME Joseph A. Frick, President and CEO, Independence Blue Cross as our new Chairman of the Board of Directors as he begins his two-year term. We will also show appreciation for outgoing Chairman Stephen D. Steinour, President, Citizens Financial Group, for his leadership during his tenure.
