ROSEMONT COLLEGE ANNOUNCES NAME CHANGE TO MEET THE WANTS AND NEEDS OF ADULT LEARNERS

Rosemont, PA—As a community committed to living out its mission by “meeting the wants of the age,” Rosemont College has experienced much new program growth in the Schools of Graduate and Continuing Studies. One of the consistent hallmarks of the Schools of Graduate and Continuing Studies is that the educational experience has been fashioned around the needs of the nearly 600 adult students who take classes in those schools.

Starting in January of 2007, the College community will begin calling the adult schools by a new name. The Schools of Graduate and Continuing Studies will be known as the Schools of Graduate and Professional Studies. The new name will allow Rosemont to more accurately convey the types of degree programs offered to adult students on the undergraduate and graduate levels.
