Chamber Member Wins Prestigious Award

December 14, 2006 – Exton, PA – At the 5th Annual Christian Chamber of Commerce Christmas Awards Luncheon, Jim Palmer, President of Dynamic Communication, was awarded the prestigious Barnabas Award. The Chamber reserves this special award for members who have demonstrated outstanding support and dedication to the vision of the Christian Chamber of Commerce. “I was honored to present Jim with the Barnabas plaque; he exemplifies the true meaning of Barnabas – the encourager,” says Chamber President, Angela Pipersburgh.

The Christian Chamber of Commerce exists to provide members the opportunity to grow their business through interaction with Believers who share their values and beliefs. This organization serves as a vehicle to bring Believers together to advance the Kingdom of God and their individual enterprise for the Lord Jesus Christ. With over 100 active members, the Chamber is experiencing steady growth; it has a Chapter in New Jersey and has plans to launch a Chester County Chapter in March, 2007. For more information on the chamber, visit www.christianchambercommerce.org or call (856) 414-0818.
