RECLAMERE TO OFFER FREE COMPUTER RECYCLING TO EDUCATIONAL SECTOR CUSTOMERS

TYRONE, PA: Reclamere, Inc. a Pennsylvania based I.T. Asset Management Company announces that in an effort to assist local school districts remain compliant with industry regulations, the company will offer free recycling of computer equipment to its current K-12 customers through September 3, 2007.

Since the company was founded in 2001, Reclamere has prided itself on having a zero-landfill policy. With the far reaching affects of global warming, Reclamere is interested in making it easier for its customers to remain in legal compliance while continuing to protect the environment. Because the organization understands the educational sector has a stringent annual budget based on taxpayer money, Reclamere is offering this program to alleviate concerns from the school districts about their budget while ensuring the material is handled in an environmentally friendly manner.

All equipment must be pre-scheduled for delivery, palletized and shrink wrapped by the customer. For further details and requirements, or to schedule a drop-off, contact 814-684-5505 and ask about this special, limited-time offer.
