PFCU Spreads the Spirit of the Season

December 18, 2007 - Through donations, celebrations and contributions, Philadelphia Federal Credit Union (PFCU) perpetuates the Holiday Season.

Throughout November, PFCU allowed employees to volunteer during normal working hours at Philabundance, a non-profit organization working to end hunger and malnutrition in the Delaware Valley.

“I am proud of our employees for volunteering,” PFCU President/CEO James McAneney said. “It is an extension of the Credit Union Philosophy of ‘People helping People’.”

Employees also donated gifts for foster children through the Angel Tree program, which benefited Children’s Choice, Inc., a non-profit child welfare agency serving foster children and domestic adoption.

Last weekend, employees celebrated the Holidays with their children during a luncheon at PFCU’s Operations Center, located at 12800 Townsend Road. The kids enjoyed arts and crafts, and a visit from Santa Claus.

Meanwhile, PFCU continues to spread warmth this Holiday Season by participating in the Philadelphia Cares’ 12th annual Winter Coat Drive. Drop-off points are located at each of their branches until January 21. Members and area residents can do their part by dropping off new or “gently used” winter coats in the designated bins.

PFCU was founded in 1951 and is currently among the top credit unions in the city, serving the entire Philadelphia and Bloomsburg, PA communities, in addition to the owners, employees and directors of over 600 organizations throughout Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware. For more information, visit pfcu.com, stop by one of the branches, or call 215-934-3500 or 800-832-PFCU (outside the metropolitan area).
