Stradley Ronon Hosts SeniorLAW Luncheon

Stradley Ronon partner Danielle Banks [far right] greets guests at the SeniorLAW Center 30th anniversary luncheon in the firm's Philadelphia office

PHILADELPHIA – Stradley Ronon hosted a luncheon for SeniorLAW Center clients as part of the organization's year-long celebration of its 30th anniversary. The SeniorLAW Center – a not-for-profit organization that focuses on protecting the rights of older Pennsylvanians – serves more than 10,000 seniors each year. Stradley Ronon partner Danielle Banks serves on the center's board of directors and chairs the Program & Personnel Committee.

As a partner in the firm's litigation practice group, Banks represents companies and individuals in employment law matters, including claims brought under Title VII, Section 1981, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Family Medical Leave Act and the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act. She also defends clients in Section 1983, Title VI and Fair Housing Act matters. Additionally, her practice includes products liability litigation as well as other complex commercial litigation.
