

Preparing for the 50+ Workforce: Is Pennsylvania Ready?

For many companies, the changing demographics of the Pennsylvania labor force and looming exodus of retirement-eligible employees pose significant challenges and opportunities for workforce retention, acquisition and management.

While many 50+ workers may exit the workforce, others will be looking to stay, some in new occupations and roles.

Join AARP and the region's leading experts from the public and private sectors for a roundtable discussion on future workforce trends:
