FOR RELEASE: Upon receipt

Agoos/Lovera Architects (A/LA) has been commissioned by Di Bruno Brothers to design a new wine and cheese bar concept at the former Pronto Store located in the Italian Market, Philadelphia.

A/LA won a Historic Preservation Award from the Township of Lower Merion Historical Commission and Historical Architectural Review Board (HARB) for renovations and additions to a carriage house in Villanova.

Also, Dave Franke and Eric Delss, along with Joan Doyle of Doyle + Associates, conducted a roundtable discussion as part of the American Association of Museums conference recently held here in Philadelphia. The topic, "Energizing Museum Retail," focused on A/LA and Doyle + Assoc.'s many collaborations in museum retail design, including current projects, general broad-view planning, the specifics of setting and reaching retail goals, as well as addressing distinct needs and goals of the attendees.
