

The Central Atlantic Region's U.S.- ISRAEL CLEANTECH CONFERENCE will take place on Tuesday, September 15, 2009 at the University of Pennsylvania. This event, organized by the America-Israel Chamber of Commerce, will provide a rare opportunity to meet representatives from Israel's cleantech industry and explore opportunities for US-Israel cleantech growth, collaboration and development.

Israel is a global leader in alternative and renewable energy with more than 50 years of experience in water management and solar energy technologies and second only to the U.S. in start-up companies pursuing renewable energy, water efficiency and other green technology innovations. This full-day conference will draw from the region's most influential cleantech professionals and will provide attendees with a comprehensive roadmap for the development of clean energy products in Pennsylvania, as well as the opportunity to network with valuable industry players. Conference includes:

- Presentations by ISRAELI CLEANTECH COMPANIES that have created new products and technologies,
- Expert panels to address U.S. markets and funding issues, featuring representatives from PJM INTERCONNECTION, VIRIDITY ENERGY, LOCKHEED MARTIN, GAMESA, PA DEPT. OF ENERGY, BEN FRANKLIN TECHNOLOGY PARTNERS, BLANK ROME GOVERNMENT RELATIONS, MCCULLOUGH CONSULTING GROUP, LLC, DUPONT PIONEER, VENTURE COMPANIES and more,
- Industry roundtables covering Solar, Wind, Smart Grid, Storage, Agrabiotech, Greentech and Water Technology development,
- One –on – One Meetings and Networking.

For more information and registration form, contact America-Israel Chamber of Commerce, Central Atlantic Region at aicc@greaterphilachamber.com