Furia Rubel PR Agency Adds Tincum Township and Willig, Williams & Davidson to Client Roster

DOYLESTOWN, PA (August 2009) – Furia Rubel Communications is pleased to announce that the firm has added two new clients to its growing public relations account roster. Furia Rubel will provide strategic services to Tincum Township of Delaware County, Pa. and the law firm Willig, Williams & Davidson of Philadelphia, Pa.

Tincum Township has hired Furia Rubel to serve as the public relations agency of record. Furia Rubel will provide strategic planning, community relations and media relations services to the Township as they relate to legal matters surrounding the expansion of the Philadelphia International Airport.

Willig, Williams & Davidson is a Philadelphia law firm which concentrates in representing labor unions, employee benefit funds and individual working people. Willig, Williams & Davidson has retained Furia Rubel in partnership with HG Marketing Group to handle their Web site strategy, development and design.

“We are very pleased with the additions of Tincum Township and Willig, Williams & Davidson to our public relations client roster,” said Gina F. Rubel, President and CEO. “Our PR work with both of these clients highlights our expertise in legal communications and our commitment to organic search engine optimization as part of a public relations strategy.”

About Tincum Township: Originally inhabited by the Lenni-Lenape Indians, the Township of Tincum in Delaware County Pennsylvania is the oldest settlement in the state – dating back to the Swedes under the leadership of Johan Printz in 1643. Tincum became a formal Township in 1780. Tincum Township is located in the Southeast portion of the state and is approximately five square miles bordered by the Delaware River, Darby Creek, and what was Bow creek and the back channel around Hog Island. The present population of Tincum Township is approximately 4,350. For more information, go to www.tincumtownshipdelco.com.
