

Event Title LEED Certification: Should your career go green?

Date October 28, 2009

Time Registration and Networking Luncheon: 11:30a.m. to 12:30 p.m.
Program: 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Location The Downtown Club, Public Ledger Building, 6th and Chestnut Streets,
11th Floor, Philadelphia, PA 19106

Cost Member, in advance: $35.00; Member, at the door: $45.00
Non-member, in advance: $55.00; Non-member, at the door: $65.00

Registration www.smpsphiladelphia.org

Event Summary

LEED Certification is becoming more and more common among the architects, engineers and project manager that we work with everyday. But have you considered if you should get the certification for yourself and how it could benefit your career? Join SMPS Philadelphia as we engage in a lively panel discussion with 3 of our own members who have become LEED Certified. We'll discuss why they decided to pursue this certification, how they prepared for the exam, and how being LEED has impacted their career. A member of Delaware Valley Green Building Council will also participate on the panel to discuss the new LEED v3 certification. Marketing directors/managers and business developers curious about the LEED certification process and how it could benefit their firm and their career should attend this program.